Volume 501

October 2022

OFFICE OF THE BISHOP

THANK YOU to all who attended the priest's Convocation in K.C. and the deacons retreat in Wichita. It was a joy to be together and see many of you there.

RESPECT LIFE MONTH is October.

WORLD MISSION SUNDAY is October 23. On this day, the entire Church comes together to support various mission works. Donations for World Mission Sunday are collected at Masses across the world and given in support of hospitals, schools and vocations. Please encourage your parishioners to participate in this important initiative.

ANNIVERSARY MASSES will be held again this year at St. Mary Queen of the Universe Church, Salina, at 3:00 P.M. on October 16 and at St. Nicholas of Myra Church in Hays at 3:00 P.M. on October 30. See the diocesan website and the Family Life Office section for more information on how to register.

HUMAN TRAFFICKING ALERTS

October – It's Trick or Treat Time and tricking potential victims into promising them something they may never be able to get on their own is a given for traffickers, a way they make their money. U.S. Catholic Sisters Against Human Trafficking is a 501 c (3) organization, 2039 N Geyer Road, St. Louis, MO 63131 (sistersagainsttrafficking.org)

Octubre - Es el momento de pedir dulces y engañar a las víctimas potenciales prometiéndoles algo que tal vez nunca puedan obtener por sí mismos. Es un hecho para los traficantes y una forma de hacer su dinero. U.S. Catholic Sisters Against Human Trafficking es una organización 501 c (3), 2039 N Geyer Road, St. Louis, MO 63131 (sistersagainsttrafficking.org)

PROPAGATION OF THE FAITH

2022 MISSION CO-OP: If your parish has not yet submitted to the diocese the Mission Cooperative collection from summer 2022, please do so as soon as possible. Your prompt attention to this will help avoid confusion of the (summer) 2022 Mission Co-Op collection with the (October) World Mission Sunday collection. Please also return the completed Mission Co-Op evaluation forms. Your candid comments are very helpful in deciding which mission groups to invite back to the diocese.

OFFICE OF YOUTH MINISTRY AND RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

CYO CONVENTION: We want 400+ High School Students at the CYO Convention this year. Please encourage your parish to bring a group to the convention, November 12th & 13th.

- We have moved it to buffer week (no KSHSAA athletic events/practices)
 - Great speakers with inspiring and motivating messages to bring back to their parish.
 - Mass, Adoration, and Confession opportunities.
 - Food, Dance, and fun with other great young people.
- Ask your parish if they have a group going!

Click the link for all the information and forms you need to get your group signed up
<https://salinadiocese.org/office/office-of-youth-ministry/cyo-convention/>

Salina Diocese Forms are available on the diocesan website.

All of these forms are now in a fillable format so that they can be filled out online and saved to a computer, and parents or participants can edit their information the next time they need to submit forms and not have to redo everything. The forms are located <https://salinadiocese.org/diocesan-forms/> Please direct people to this website when you have them fill out forms.

NCYC 2023: Information for signup will be sent out in the middle of October to each parish.

ALL PARISH DRE's & CATHOLIC SCHOOL PRINCIPALS: Please plan on attending these zoom meetings to help you begin this program in your parish or school. They will go over everything with you that you will need to get started with your parish/school programs. The goal is to attend all three meetings, but they will be recorded in case you can't make the dates or times work.

Fri 10/21/2022 9:00 AM - 11:00 AM

Fri 10/28/2022 9:00 AM - 11:00 AM

Fri 11/4/2022 9:00 AM - 11:00 AM

OFFICE OF SAFE ENVIRONMENT

SAFETY COORDINATORS: Certification Status Sheets and Safety Coordinator Checklists are due to the Safe Environment Office before October 1st. I understand that many of you may still be trying to secure catechists or possibly other staff members/employees, and that date may not be possible. If that may be the situation for you, please let me know, so I can make note in your file that those forms will be forthcoming.

VISITS: On-site visits are scheduled for parishes and schools. All who are involved this year have been notified through email and should have received an agenda and checklist. If you have any questions as you make final preparations, please let me know. Please compare our spreadsheet with your information and make any changes directly to the spreadsheet. Note the changes in the appropriate column and highlight the names that need to be changed or should be removed from your list of registered parishioners. Please do not delete anyone. If they should be removed from your list, please make a note of the reason (i.e., moved out of state, changed parish registration, deceased, etc.).

Please continue to add parishioner emails and updates as you receive them. We are really trying to include emails in parishioner records so that they will receive the monthly e-news from Bishop Vincke.

Thank you for your help in keeping our parish and parishioner records up to date. We really appreciate it! Please let us know if you have any questions.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATIONS

PUBLICATIONS DRIVE: Please place the below announcement in the bulletin to support the annual publications drive.

The diocesan communications efforts are intended to inform and inspire Catholics within the diocese and beyond. We have a beautiful faith, and great things are happening in our diocese. Faith magazine is meant to teach and share inspiring stories about our Catholic faith, and The Register is used to announce the awesome stories that are happening in our diocese, parishes, schools and communities. The website and social media platforms are other ways the diocese strives to communicate the good news to the people. All these resources are shared with the faithful at no cost to the recipient. The annual publications drive is one way the work of the Communications Office is funded. Please consider supporting the drive by making a gift online at <https://salinadiocese.org/publications/publications-drive/> or using the envelope found in the Oct. issue of The Register or the Nov. issue of faith magazine and mail to the Catholic Foundation.

ARTICLE SUBMISSIONS: Please share stories and photos from your parish or Catholic school to Katie at theregister@salinadiocese.org

NEWS AND NOTES from the Safe Environment Office

THE ABCS OF CHILD PROTECTION By Mary Jane Doerr

- Abuse is never a child's fault, a point that children need to hear over and over again. Offenders try hard to make children feel complicit in the abuse or to blame them for the abuse. Children learn that that is never true! The blame always belongs to the adult who is taking advantage of a child's trust and vulnerabilities.
- God loves children forever and wants them to live holy and happy lives. If a child has been abused, that child learns they are still innocent and loved by God and their families. The shame of child sexual abuse needs to be put where it belongs: on the abuser.
- Abuse that has happened should be reported. Children learn to tell a parent or another trusted adult if someone is hurting them and to keep telling until they are believed. One study shows that children tell of their abuse an average of nine times before someone believes them. Parents can help children learn whom they can trust by pointing out the adults who can be trusted. Parents can also teach children the correct names of private body parts. This simple step gives children the vocabulary to tell others what happened to them.
- You can recognize abuse when it happens. Children learn to trust that feeling that says something isn't right and to tell a parent or other trusted adult when something happens that makes them feel uneasy. Children learn to question if someone is telling them to do what the child doesn't like but says it is because he loves the child. Children learn to tell parents or trusted adult if another person makes them sad or confused or tries to get them to break rules. This can stop the process of grooming by which an abuser lures a child toward danger. A child who questions another's inappropriate behavior can send a message to the offender that this child is not an easy target, but one that will tell what is being done to him/her.
- There are ways to spot a grooming process. Offenders are willing to spend a great deal of time grooming the family, the child and even the community so they may be seen as a trusted family friend. Children learn that anyone who lets children break rules, gives them alcohol or shows them pornography needs to be reported to parents and other trusted adults. Children learn not to keep secrets from parents. They learn that they should tell parents when someone gives them special gifts or is always touching them or tickling them and says not to tell.
- Parents or other trusted adults will talk about this subject. Children often try to protect their parents from bad news, so they need to learn they can tell their parents anything. This lesson is conveyed when parents stay involved in their children's activities and talk with them about what is happening in their lives. This is how children learn what can be shared with parents. The more effective safe environment programs include parents in the learning process. This gives the child a clear signal that this subject is not off limits but instead is something to be talked about with family member
- Boundaries exist. Learning about personal boundaries can protect children and their knowing boundaries reinforces the teaching to listen to one's instincts. Children who listen to the voice that says, This doesn't feel right, can protect themselves.
- Children can stand up for themselves. Children need to be respectful and obey, yet at the same time need to know there are times when it is okay to say no to an adult. Children learn when it is appropriate for them to say, No, stop doing that. For example, they hear they can say no to someone who makes them uncomfortable, shows them pornography, or offers them alcohol.
- There are ways to explain inappropriate behavior. Children learn how to describe what's happening when someone is doing something that just seems a little weird even though it may not seem wrong. The ability to articulate what has happened to a child enables a child to more easily confide in a parent or other trusted adult. This can alert the adult to a potentially dangerous situation so it can be avoided. This is ultimately the goal of safe environment education.
