OFFICE OF THE CHANCELLOR

HAVE YOU REVIEWED THE BYLAWS OF YOUR PARISH PASTORAL AND FINANCE COUNCIL LATELY? Parish pastoral and finance councils play an important role in the life of a healthy and thriving parish. These councils are essential for providing a framework for collaboration and shared responsibility between the clergy and the laity. They are not intended to be merely bureaucratic, but they are called to be models of communion and active participation in the life of the parish that encourages all the members to embrace the Church's evangelical mission.

THE PROCESS FOR THE SELECTION OF COUNCIL MEMBERS (Pastoral and Finance): While the parish priest has the authority to appoint or “elect” members of the parish pastoral council and finance council, it is essential that the process is transparent and involves the community to foster effective collaboration and discernment in pastoral matters. The selection process should ensure that the council reflects the diversity of the parish community. The terms of the selection process should be outlined in the Bylaws of the respective council. In many of the smaller parishes of the Diocese of Salina the membership of the parish pastoral council and parish finance council are the same. When this is the case, it is essential that there be separate meeting minutes for each council to properly reflect in what capacity the council is operating.

Members of the parish pastoral council should be chosen to represent the entire community of the faithful, reflecting the diversity of the parish in terms of social conditions and professions. This approach aims to ensure that the council's composition is inclusive and representative of the parish's demographics.

According to the Code of Canon Law, the finance council is to consist of at least three members who are Christian faithful. These members should be truly expert in financial affairs and civil law, ensuring integrity in their role. The finance council plays a vital role in promoting a culture of co-responsibility and administrative transparency within the parish. This underscores the importance of selecting members who are not only qualified but also committed to serving the community's interests.

THE IMPORTANCE OF TERM LIMITS: Establishing term limits for members of the parish pastoral council and finance council is important for several reasons. Firstly, term limits promote the inclusion of diverse perspectives and fresh ideas, which can enhance the councils' effectiveness in addressing the evolving needs of the parish community. Secondly, they prevent stagnation and the concentration of power within a small group, ensuring that leadership remains dynamic and responsive. Additionally, term limits encourage broader participation from the parish, allowing more individuals to engage in church governance and fostering a sense of shared responsibility among the faithful.

OFFICE OF EVANGELIZATION

OFFICE OF THE EUCHARISTIC REVIVAL

YEAR OF MISSION, JULY 2024 - JUNE 2025: This year, we are answering the call to evangelize, boldly spreading the Good News of Christ’s Eucharistic love and mercy in word and deed. As our love for Christ deepens, our lives will become increasingly configured to his mission, compelling us to serve others with his heart. We will be drawn to compassionate service, living our call to be his hands and feet to our neighbors and bring his presence to the margins.

EMBRACING OUR APOSTOLIC ROOTS: Jesus in the Eucharist is the answer to every restless longing of the human heart. If we truly believe this, then that living faith will compel us to share this joy with our brothers and sisters! That’s what the third year of the Revival—the Year of Mission—is all about.

This is an exciting new season of the Revival movement. The Holy Spirit has enkindled a missionary fire in the heart of our nation, and now he is sending out every member of the Church to spread the Good News, sharing the gift of our Eucharistic Lord with those on the margins. And YOU are invited to be a part of it!

If you feel called to live this mission in a way that’s unique to you and your strengths, we have created a Year of Mission Playbook just for you! Download the guide below and read on to learn more about how you can become a Eucharistic Missionary.

Send a Box of Joy to a Child Who Wishes for Just One Gift

Every year, impoverished children experience a Christmas with no gifts. Burdened by poverty, their parents struggle to provide them with the most basic necessities. These are children who may have never held a picture book, worn a new shirt or owned a toy.

The gifts you pack in a Box of Joy show God's unconditional love, and they will spark the joy every child should experience at Christmas. More important, they are symbolic of God's greatest gift: his son, Jesus Christ.

The Box of Joy outreach provides a unique opportunity for the priests, nuns and lay missionaries working with the children to share the Gospel.

Your Box of Joy also supports lifesaving local ministries, enabling a greater impact on the lives of these precious children.

For those fighting poverty "in the trenches," a Box of Joy is literally a godsend!

IMPORTANT REMINDERS

1. Use the provided gift box or any shoebox-sized container (approximately 12" long x 6" wide x 4" tall).
2. If possible, remove items from original packaging to limit waste in the receiving countries.
3. Please do not put monetary donations in the gift boxes. Go online to boxofjoy.org to make your $9 donation for each gift box or scan the QR code to pay.
4. If needed, secure the lid to your gift box with a single rubber band (please do not tape the gift box).

GIFT IDEAS

PERSONAL NOTES & PHOTOS

What Does the Term “Proper Boundaries” Mean?

Boundaries are limits that you set within a relationship in which you are comfortable and how you would like to be treated by others. It is often said to set boundaries with your children and to teach them proper boundaries, not only for themselves but others. Knowing the different types of boundaries and how these will change throughout their lifetime, will help you educate your child on staying safe. An individual who abuses a child hopes they do not understand these boundaries, so they can test these limitations.

Different Types of Boundaries

When children are younger it is important that they develop the concept of what is considered ‘safe’. One way this is done is by instilling boundaries to act as a guiding voice throughout their lives. As they grow, these boundaries will change, however, when they are younger, you can teach the concepts that would translate into other areas. There are three main types of boundaries that can be set: physical, emotional, and behavioral. For example, one could explain the concept of physical boundaries by not forcing their child to give a hug, even to other family members/friends. These boundaries can be violated, where examples of each are shown in the table below.

| Boundary Violations | | |
|---|--|---|
| Physical | Emotional | Behavioral |
| Long hugs/Tickling a child | Being possessive/controlling of children or teens | Preferring time alone with a child |
| Wrestling/horseplay | Talking/treating a child like a boyfriend/girlfriend | Using crude/inappropriate language with child |
| Kissing a child that is not his/her own | Being emotionally volatile with a child | Getting child to keep a secret for the adult |
| Holding an older child on lap | Putting demands on child to meet needs of adult | Exposing child to pornography |

Maintaining Professional Boundaries

As an adult working with children that are not your own, it is your responsibility to ensure that professional boundaries are maintained. One can support an individual's academic, personal, or spiritual growth without favoring them over other students. When talking or interacting with students, it is important to keep all communications transparent, and if meeting with students, ensure you are not meeting with them alone. Be sure to follow proper Diocesan guidelines on these interactions.

Waiting to discuss what proper boundaries entails could allow them to be pushed by the wrong individuals. If you continue to educate your child, they will be able to continually recognize what is a safe boundary.
